1. GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT SLOVENIA

Slovenia or officially the Republic of, is a country located in southern Central Europe at a crossroads of important European cultural and trade routes. It is bordered by Italy to the west, Austria to the north, Hungary to the northeast, Croatia to the southeast, and the Adriatic Sea to the southwest. It covers 20,273 square kilometers (7,827 sq mi) and has a population of 2.07 million. One of the successor states of the former Yugoslavia, Slovenia is a parliamentary republic and a member of the United Nations, member of the European Union, and member of NATO. The capital and largest city is Ljubljana.

Slovenia has a mostly mountainous terrain with a mainly continental climate, with the exception of the Slovene Littoral, which has a sub-Mediterranean climate, and of the northwest, which has an Alpine climate. Additionally, the Dinaric Alps and the Pannonian Plain meet on the territory of Slovenia. The country, marked by a significant biological diversity, is one of the most water-rich in Europe, with a dense river network, a rich aquifer system, and significant karst underground watercourses. Over half of the territory is covered by forest. The human settlement of Slovenia is dispersed and uneven.

Slovenia has historically been the crossroads of Slavic, Germanic, and Romance languages and cultures. Although the population is not homogeneous, Slovenes comprise the majority. The South Slavic language Slovene is the official language throughout the country. Slovenia is a largely secularized country, but Catholicism and Lutheranism have significantly influenced its culture and identity. The economy of Slovenia is small, open and export-oriented and is thus strongly influenced by the conditions of its exporting partners' economies. It has been severely hurt by the Eurozone crisis which started in 2009. The main economic field is services, followed by industry and construction.

Medical care and health services

Medical care is very well spread across Slovenia. All Slovenian cities have health centres, while there are individual clinics in small towns. All Slovenian settlements are served by emergency medical assistance, even by helicopter if necessary. The nearest hospital is in Brežice, which is about 5 km from the hotels and in the same city, where the competition will take place. In Slovenia, there is no risk of contracting any dangerous disease, which is why there are no special vaccinations for entry into the country. When travelling to Slovenia, the vaccination against tetanus is recommended, but not necessary. For minor problems, such as colds, headaches, fever or insect bites, it is possible to obtain medications in pharmacies without prescription as well. The majority of Slovenian towns have pharmacies, while there are also 24 hour pharmacies in the cities. The citizens of European Union Member States can travel to Slovenia with the European Health Insurance Card. This card can also be obtained by the citizens of Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway and Switzerland. The card gives you access to health services in the public health sector, i.e. at the doctors and pharmacies, under the same conditions as the Slovenian citizens. If you do have to pay for health services in Slovenia, you will be reimbursed after your return to your homeland. With the European Health Insurance Card, you get all the necessary medical care to allow you to continue your stay in Slovenia. However, the card does not cover health services from private providers. A special agreement also applies to the citizens of Croatia, who can obtain health services in Slovenia with their health cards. For the citizens of all other countries, it is best that you take out international travel insurance even before travelling to Slovenia. They are also recommended for the citizens of the above-mentioned countries. For more detailed information on using health services, please refer to the Health Insurance Institute of Slovenia.

Emergencies

Remember the phone number 112. This is the number of the Emergency Call Centre that can provide you with an ambulance and emergency medical assistance in case of emergency.

Smoking Ban

In Slovenia, smoking is banned in all closed public and work premises, i.e. also in the catering and accommodation establishments. You must be at least 18 years old to buy tobacco products. This makes Slovenia one of the European countries with the most stringent restrictions on smoking

Shops and public services working hours

During the tourist season, most shops are open from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. on weekdays and many of them are also open during the weekend. Public services and business offices generally work from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m., Monday to Friday.

Post and telecommunications

Post offices are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. on weekdays, in smaller centers from 7 a.m. until 2 p.m. Some offices work a split shift. In most towns and tourist centers, duty post offices are open on Saturdays and Sundays. Phone cards are used in all public telephones and may be purchased from post offices and from newspaper and tobacco kiosks. International calls may be made directly from any public telephone.

3. INFORMATION ABOUT THE ACCOMMODATION RESORT:

Terme Čatež is a natural health resort and also a sports and recreation center. The resort lies at an altitude of about 145 meters above sea level on the right bank of the Sava River along the Ljubljana - Zagreb motorway. The resort is famous for its thermal healing water, which comes from 11 drillings with the temperatures between 58°C and 63°C from 600 m depth up to the surface, where it is used for the needs of recreational pools, spas and greenhouse heating and also as a remedy for many health issues and preventative treatments. The thermal water is the basic element of all programmes and therapies conducted at the resort.

Hot springs in the area of the resort were first discovered in 1797, but in 1842 they were flooded by the Sava river. The springs were rediscovered in 1854. In 1924 Čatež began to be converted into a Spa resort as we know it today. The real momentum was achieved after 1963 when the first modern facilities were built. The main drillings for Terme Čatež were found and located by geophysicist Janez K. Lapajne.

Today, Terme Čatež is the largest Slovenian natural health resort with a wide selection of products for all generations: attractive water programs, wellness and health services, sports facilities, congress facilities..

This includes the largest indoor pool complex water paradise ZIMSKA TERMALNA RIVIERA on over 2,300 m² of indoor thermal water surface with various water attractions like pirate ship, artificial waves, slides, whirlpools...
